

Privacy Policy

Your privacy is very important to the SRDA and affiliates. We are committed to being transparent and open with how we collect, use and disclose information. This Privacy Policy explains how we collect information about you and what we do with that information once we have it. We are the sole owners of the information collected on this site. We only have access to/collect information that you voluntarily give us via email or other direct contact from you. We will not sell or rent this information to anyone. We will use your information to respond to you, regarding the reason you contacted us. We will not share your information with any third party outside of our organization, other than as necessary to fulfill your request.

We use "cookies" on this site. A cookie is a piece of data stored on a site visitor's hard drive to help us improve your access to our site and identify repeat visitors to our site. For instance, when we use a cookie to identify you, you would not have to log in a password more than once, thereby saving time while on our site. Cookies can also enable us to track and target the interests of our users to enhance the experience on our site. Usage of a cookie is in no way linked to any personally identifiable information on our site.

This web site contains links to other sites. Please be aware that we are not responsible for the content or privacy practices of such other sites. We encourage our users to be aware when they leave our site and to read the privacy statements of any other site that collects personally identifiable information. We take precautions to protect your information. When you submit sensitive information via the website, your information is protected both online and offline. We may make changes to this privacy notice from time to time. You may check back on this page at any time to see our current policy.
